

Sample Bibliographic Citations - APA (American Psychological Association)

The following sample citations are based on:

Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (4th ed.). (1994). Washington, DC: American Psychological Association.

The list of references begins on a new page at the end of your paper. Center the title "References" (without quotation marks) in the width of the page.

Unless your instructor suggests otherwise, do not indent the first line of an entry, but indent any additional lines one-half inch (or five spaces). All references are to be double-spaced.

Alphabetize your list by the last names of the authors (or editors); if there is no author or editor, alphabetize by the first word of the title other than A, An, or The.

Invert all authors' names, and use initials instead of first names. With two or more authors, use an ampersand (&) rather than the word "and." Separate the names with commas. Use all authors' names; do not use "et al."
